Leadership Message

Dear JAKSONites,

As we step into the new financial year, we find ourselves at an important moment in JAKSON's journey. The energy landscape around us is evolving quickly, and so are we.

Over the years, we have seen many cycles of change. What has held us steady through all of them is not just what we do, but how we do it. At JAKSON, growth has never been about speed alone. It has been about building with intent, staying relevant, and earning trust every single day.

This year, as we cross INR 9000 crore in revenue, we want to pause and acknowledge what this really means. It is not just a number. It is the outcome of the effort, discipline and belief that each one of you brings to work, day after day. Whether on the shop floor, at project sites, in offices or with customers, every contribution has shaped this journey.

The industry today is moving towards cleaner, smarter and more resilient solutions. This creates a significant opportunity for us. But more importantly, it places a responsibility on us to build future ready capabilities that are not just relevant for today, but meaningful for tomorrow. We are confident that JAKSON is well positioned for this next phase.

We have also taken a step forward in how we present ourselves to the world, with the recent association with Sourav Ganguly. It reflects the kind of values we believe in and will help strengthen how JAKSON is seen and understood as we grow.

What gives us the most confidence, however, is our people. The ownership we see, the way teams come together to solve problems, and the quiet commitment to doing things right, these are what truly define JAKSON.

As we grow, let us stay grounded in these values. Keep supporting each other, keep learning, and take pride in the role you play in this journey. Each one of you is building something that will last. The road ahead is full of opportunity, and we are excited about what we can achieve together. Thank you for your continued commitment and for being a part of JAKSON.
